

Appalachian Trail Shuttles and Public Transportation

June 1, 2009

Dear Shuttle User,

This listing is provided as an information service for A.T. hikers and does not constitute an endorsement by the Appalachian Trail Conservancy of the dependability or safety of the individual service providers. While some service providers may be members of the ATC, they are not representatives, employees or agents of the ATC and their services are not in any way affiliated with ATC.

We recommend that you arrange your shuttle at the beginning of your hike and walk back to your car. This way you are not bound to a rigid schedule once you start your hike.

Many people on this list shuttle on their time off. Arrangements are best made at least 1-2 weeks in advance.

Rates. ATC does not set rates. Each service provider sets its own rates; it is up to you to determine whether these are equitable. Rates in this listing may no longer be current due to recent increases in gas prices. For individuals who do not have set rates, we ask you to consider the cost of gas, vehicle maintenance, insurance, and the driver's time when making an offer.

Parking and Access. The official A.T. guidebooks and maps, available from ATC's website and local outfitters, offer detailed information about trailhead parking and trail access points. Additional information, posted by hikers and trail clubs, can be found at <http://appalachiantrail.rohland.org>, a Web site created and maintained by the Rohlands.

Trailhead Vandalism. Some trailhead parking areas may be subject to vandalism; check with the local trail club or land-managing agency before leaving a car in an unattended location to find out if there is a history of problems. Local businesses will sometimes allow you to park your car for a fee. Trailheads with known problems are noted in this listing.

Tips for deterring vandals:

Report theft, vandalism and suspicious persons and activities to the local land manager or police and ATC at incident@appalachiantrail.org.

Remove all valuables from your vehicle. This includes CDs, sunglasses, and expensive stereos. If you must leave valuables in your car, lock items out of sight before reaching the trailhead so you cannot be observed stowing them. Leave glove box empty and open (but take care not to run down your vehicle's battery).

Park vehicle in the open, away from trees and shrubs where vandals can hide. Don't back in with the hatch or trunk facing the woods.

Label all your gear. Write down brand name, serial and models of your equipment. Engrave or permanently mark them with your personal identification.

Don't leave notes for friends advising them of your plans.

Report theft, vandalism and suspicious persons and activities to the local land manager or police and ATC at incident@appalachiantrail.org.

Please contact the ATC if any information on our shuttle list needs to be corrected or if you wish to comment on the service received:

APPALACHIAN TRAIL CONSERVANCY

The Appalachian Trail Conservancy is a volunteer-based nonprofit organization dedicated to the conservation of the 2,175-mile Appalachian National Scenic Trail, a 250,000-acre greenway extending from Maine to Georgia. Our mission is to ensure that future generations will enjoy the clean air and water, scenic vistas, wildlife and opportunities for recreation and renewal along the entire Trail corridor.

Before your hike, be sure to check for Trail Updates at www.appalachiantrail.org/updates.

Services are listed south to north by location of shuttle provider.

Vermont spring mud season advisory:*Hikers are urged to stay off hiking trails April 15 - Memorial Day Weekend.Please help protect the fragile alpine tundra and prevent soil erosion by staying off the A.T. in Vermont during mud season. This will allow the trails to dry out and reduce the amount of maintenance required each year to keep them safe and enjoyable. For more information, visit www.greenmountainclub.org.Vermont A.T./Long Trail trailhead caution:

Vandalism is a problem at some trailheads. Overnight trailhead parking is always risky. If possible, leave your vehicle in town. It is sometimes wiser to leave a car away from the trail near major public transportation routes. Police and service stations will usually provide a place to park (in the case of the latter for a small fee), and the Long Trail may then be reached by walking, taxi, or other public transportation.
